TAKEN AWAY.

The Pembroke Prisoners Transferred to Madisonville.

Hurried Out of Town on the Mid-night Train Thursday Night.

The nine negro prisoners charged with the murder of an unknown man at Pembroke Nov. 14, who were in jail here, were taken to Madisonville Thursday at midnight for safekeeping. There were rumors of mob violence, though no danger was visible on the surface of things, and they were taken away to be on the safe side. The special term of court will convene next Monday and they will of course be brought back for trial.

The negroes were taken to Madisonville by Sheriff Davis and four deputies and were gone before any one knew of the plan to move them.

It is doubtful if there was any real danger of a mob, but it was thought best to take all necessary precautions to avoid a wholesale lynching.

CROFTON MILLS

Partially Unroofed During Severe Storm Friday Night.

A blizzard of considerable proportions struck Hopkinsville early Friday night. The wind blew a regular gale and was accompanied by rain, hail and snow. The temperature took a rapid tumble and by Saturday morning the mercury registered near the zero mark. During the storm about one-third of the tin roof on Burkholder Bro's mill at Crofton was blown off, entailing a considerable loss to the proprietors. This was the only serious damage reported in the county. A severe blizzard prevailed throught the North and West Friday, accompanied by a heavy snowfall. The storm was followed by very cold weather all over the country.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN

Passes Away as a Result of Paralytic Stroke.

Mr. James Payne died of paralysis at his home three miles North-east of Crofton. He had not been in good health for some time, but was recently stricken with the ailment which caused his death. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served in the Confederate army and was 65 years old.

He is survived by several grown children.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS

While Chopping Wood and Died in Few Hours.

Mr. Weaverly T. Long, a well known citizen who lived about two miles west of Crofton, died suddenly of paralysis last Thursday night at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Long was chopping wood at his woodpile when he was stricken. He fell helpless and was carried into the house, when he died in about three hours. He was 72 years old and the father-in-law of Mr. T. J. Davis, of Crofton.

BOTH FINED.

One Defendant Assessed $2.50 and Other One Cent.

Sam Stoner, col., arrested on a warrant charging a breach of the peace, entered a plea of guilty yesterday and was fined $2.50 and costs.

Stoner swore out a counter warrant against T. F. Sheehan, an employe of the T. C. road, and the latter was fined one cent and costs.

Miss Nell Jackson, of Springfield, Tenn., is visiting Mrs. Eugene Wood.

IN SOCIETY.

Holiday Entertainments to Take Up all This Week.

The Reception at Bethel College By Misses Hoge and Carr Last Night.

The second week of the holiday festivities was inaugurated last evening with the reception at Bethel College by Misses Katie and Annie Hoge and Louise Carr. About eighteen or twenty couples were present. Progressive love making was a novel feature of the entertainment. Dainty refreshments were served.

Misses Graham and Waller.

Miss Jeanie Graham and Edith Waller will receive this evening in honor of Miss Graham's guest, Miss Maydell Robinson, of Alabama. The reception will be at the home of Mr. John B. Trice, from 8 to 12.

Invitations Called In.

Owing to the serious illness of their father, the Miss. Boales have recalled the invitations to their reception announced for to-morrow night.

The Kenton Club Dance.

The Kenton Club will give another of its holiday dances Thursday evening, and the young people will dance out the old and dance in the new year.

Miss Blakey's Reception.

Miss Sallie George Blakey will entertain the Oumswee Club at a New Year's reception Friday night, which will be one of the principal social events of the week.

PHI DELTA THETA VISITORS

Banqueted at Hotel Latham By Local Brothers.

The local "frat. brothers" of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity of this city gave a banquet last night at Hotel Latham in honor of five visiting members from the State College chapter. The visitors are Messrs. Watt Campbell, L. D. Threlkeld, Shobe, Barclay and Haynes, of the State College at Lexington. The local brothers are Rev. H. C. Abbett and Messrs. Ira L. Smith, J. D. Russell, Jr., Jno. B. Trice, Jr., Brown Whitlow, Donald Carney, Lyne Starling, Jas. Forbes, Gus Moore, Mit Moore and Lawson Plack. Mr. John B. Russell, who is sick, and Mr. A. P. Crockett, absent from the city, were unable to attend. The banquet was served in the ordinary and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Moses Williams Suddenly Expires of Heart Failure.

Moses Williams, col., aged 40 years, was found dead in bed at his home on the Cheatham farm, near Longview, Sunday morning. Williams had given a party Saturday night and after the festivities were over he retired in his usual health. He was a man of family. Coroner Alledsworth held an inquest Sunday and the verdict of the jury was death from heart failure.

NEW POSTOFFICE

Takes Name of Coal Mine Opened on I. C. Road.

A postoffice has been established at Daniel Boone, in Hopkins county, near the Christian county line, with James D. Overall as postmaster. The office takes its name from the new coal mines opened on the I. C. Road, about five miles West of Nortonville.
